Everything the decision does not cover

Mohamed Abu Khadra

AUTHOR OF BEFORE YOU SAY YES TO THE DOG AND AFTER YOU SAY YES TO THE DOG

SYSTEM FIRST. PUPPY SECOND. FAMILY ALWAYS.

Who owns each job

Dad owns safety decisions, freedom levels, outdoor risk, reset decisions, vet and trainer decisions, Mum's SAFE, emergency response, and final responsibility. Dad does not need to do everything. But Dad cannot disappear.

The children can own routine jobs when approved.

Job	Adult Check?
Water check	Yes
Potty tracker	Yes
PLACE practice	Yes
Brushing help	Yes
Daily handoff	Yes
Short mental game	Yes
Calm play	Yes
Outdoor route watching	Yes
Toy cleanup	Sometimes

They do not own risky jobs. They help. They report. They stop early. They call Dad.

Every daily job has an owner and a backup. Fill this in and put it where the family can see it.

Potty and cleaning	-----	-----	-----
Food and water	-----	-----	-----
Outdoor and leash	-----	-----	-----

Is that time available in a normal week — not your best week?

YES / NO

If first-week coverage is unclear, the family is not ready for pickup.

Choosing the right puppy

Choosing a dog is really three decisions, and most families collapse them into one excited moment. Taken in order, they protect you.

The third decision comes last: which individual puppy? Even within the right breed, puppies differ. A beautiful puppy can still be the wrong puppy. The wrong puppy does not become easy because the family loves him. Look for temperament that fits your home: a puppy who is curious but not frantic, who recovers after a small surprise, who can settle. Not the one with the most dramatic looks, and not the one the children cried over. Fit, not fantasy.

Person	Job
Dad	Final decision. Records, fit, risk, vet check, and whether to walk away.
Kids	Observe calmly. Do not choose by cuteness. Do not pressure Dad.
Mum	Gives comfort feedback. Her discomfort is a real decision input.
Seller / breeder	Answers normal questions, shows records, allows normal observation.

Puppy Fit Scorecard

Score each item from 1 to 5 (1 = concerning, 3 = acceptable, 5 = excellent). Dad makes the final decision.

Area	Score
Clean, safe environment	_____ / 5
Puppy looks healthy – clear eyes, clean coat, good movement	_____ / 5
Curious but not frantic	_____ / 5
Recovers after a mild surprise	_____ / 5
Accepts gentle handling	_____ / 5
Takes food / can engage	_____ / 5
Human interest – engages without frantic jumping	_____ / 5
Mouthiness – normal puppy biting, not intense pressure	_____ / 5
Playful but not uncontrollable	_____ / 5
Not hiding constantly	_____ / 5
Not bullying littermates	_____ / 5
Parent temperament acceptable	_____ / 5
Seller answers clearly	_____ / 5
Vaccination / deworming records available	_____ / 5
Family suitability	_____ / 5

Total: 60–75 strong candidate (still check red flags) · 45–59 possible, review concerns carefully · below 45 do not rush, likely not suitable.

What to Ask the Breeder or Seller

Ask simple direct questions.

Question	Why
How old is the puppy exactly?	Age clarity
What food is he eating?	Transition planning
Has he been vaccinated?	Health
Has he been dewormed?	Health
Can we see the mother or parent videos?	Temperament clues
Which puppy is calmest?	Fit
Which puppy is most intense?	Avoid mismatch
Has he met children calmly?	Family fit
Can our vet check him?	Confidence
What support do you offer after pickup?	Responsibility

A good seller should not fear normal questions.

Visit Behaviour Check

During the visit, watch more than looks.

What Happens	Good Sign	Warning Sign
Puppy sees people	Curious, not frantic	Panic or nonstop jumping
Puppy is touched gently	Accepts briefly	Hard biting or panic
Puppy hears a small sound	Notices, recovers	Cannot recover
Puppy interacts with siblings	Normal play	Extreme bullying or fear
Puppy is separated briefly	Curious or settles	Full panic or shutdown
Puppy takes food	Can engage	Too stressed or frantic

Do not test harshly. Do not scare the puppy. Just observe.

Red Flags

Walk away or pause if you see:

Red Flag	Why It Matters
Seller refuses records	Trust issue
Puppy looks sick, weak, or dirty	Health concern
Seller pressures fast payment	Bad decision pressure
Aggression is main selling point	Wrong family fit
Puppy is extremely fearful	May need advanced handling
Puppy is extremely intense	May overwhelm family
Parents seem unstable	Risk signal
Age is unclear	Health / social concern
Seller refuses vet check	Serious warning
Environment is unsafe or filthy	Care concern

Do not let emotion override red flags. There will be another puppy.

The house before he arrives

The House Zone Map

The puppy needs a map before he needs freedom. Use clear zones from Day 0.

Zone	Purpose	Setup Standard
BOX zone	Sleep, rest, safe containment.	Safe, quiet, clean, easy to access, away from teasing and heavy traffic.
POTTY zone	Same toilet place and routine.	One consistent corner. Easy to reach and clean. Not the main play zone.
Food / water zone	Eating and drinking.	Stable bowls, easy cleaning, no guest feeding, no kids teasing.
PLACE zone	Calm spot near family.	Mat, bed, towel, or raised bed near people but not in chaos.
Supervised family area	Limited safe area for controlled time.	Only when watched. Barriers ready. Unsafe items removed.
Puppy-free spaces	Rooms or areas protected for Mum and family.	Doors, gates, or clear rules. No “quick visits.”

Do not give the puppy the whole house. A young puppy with too much space will make his own rules.

Supplies Before Day 0

Buy tools that help control, calmness, cleaning, and safety. Not random toys.

Item	Ready?	Purpose
BOX / crate / pen / safe sleep space	-----	Rest, containment, SAFE, night.
Washable liner / bedding	-----	Clean rest area.
Harness + leash	-----	Controlled movement from Day 0.
Bowls	-----	Food and water routine.
Small training treats + pouch	-----	Fast GOOD BOY rewards.
Safe chews — 3 to rotate	-----	Save hands, furniture, and sanity.
Enzyme cleaner	-----	Accident cleanup without smell memory.
Poop bags / wipes	-----	POTTY routine and cleaning.
PLACE mat / towel / cot	-----	Calm spot near family.
Towels	-----	Paws, rain, bath, emergency.
Simple brush	-----	Early handling and hygiene.
Toy basket with approved toys only	-----	No random kids' toys.

Dog-safe shampoo later	-----	Grooming
Paw wipe towel	-----	Grooming
Folder for vet, vaccine, deworming, breeder records	-----	Records

Hazard Removal Checklist

If the puppy chewed it, he had access to it. Fix the setup before blaming behaviour.

Remove / Block	Done
Shoes, socks, laundry, towels on floor	-----
Children toys, balls, small plastic pieces	-----
Wires, chargers, plugs, loose cables	-----
Plants, soil, garden tools, fertilizers	-----
Food wrappers, trash bags, table leftovers	-----
Cleaning products, chemicals, medicine	-----
Sharp objects, nails, screws, tools	-----
Unsafe furniture corners or chewing access	-----
Slippery sprinting surfaces blocked for play	-----
Fence gaps, gate gaps, escape points checked	-----

Prevention beats training when the puppy has not learned the house yet.

Day 0 Readiness Gate

Do not collect or receive the puppy until this page is true enough.

- ☐ BOX is built, clean, and placed.
- ☐ PLACE is ready and visible.
- ☐ POTTY corner is chosen and reachable.
- ☐ Food / water area is ready.
- ☐ Mum's path and puppy-free spaces are protected.
- ☐ Gates and doors have clear rules.
- ☐ Unsafe items are removed from puppy areas.
- ☐ Supplies are bought and accessible.
- ☐ Kids know their setup jobs and limits.
- ☐ Mum SAFE and BOX NOW are understood.
- ☐ Emergency phone tree is filled.
- ☐ Dad has the first 48 hours plan ready.

If three or more boxes are not ready, delay the puppy or delay collection.

The first forty-eight hours

Arrival Order

The puppy should not walk into the house first. The first stop is the POTTY area.

Step	Action
1	Harness/leash on. Calm voice only.
2	Go straight to the POTTY corner. Stand still.
3	Say POTTY calmly once. Give 2–3 quiet minutes.
4	If puppy toilets: GOOD BOY + calm reward.
5	Offer water.
6	Enter only the prepared puppy area. No full house tour.
7	Use BOX or PLACE before chaos begins.
8	No visitors. No showing off. No free roaming.

The First 48-Hour Loop

POTTY → PLACE → BOX → repeat.

The loop is simple on purpose. The family should not invent a new plan every hour.

Loop Part	Do This	Why
POTTY	Same place. Same word. 2–3 minutes.	Build location and timing.
PLACE	Short calm settle with reward.	Teaches calm near family.
BOX	Nap, rest, night, safe containment.	Prevents overtired chaos and free mistakes.
Repeat	Return to POTTY after waking, meals, water, play, sniffing/circling.	Timing teaches faster than punishment.

First Night Plan

Night 1 may include protest. The mission is to teach that whining does not open entertainment.

If This Happens	Response
Brief whining	Wait 30–60 seconds. Do not rush in.
Still whining and likely POTTY timing	Silent POTTY trip. 2–3 minutes max.
Puppy toilets	GOOD BOY calmly. Back to BOX.
No POTTY	Back to BOX. No play. No talking.
Kids wake up	No talking, no petting, no lights-on party. Call Dad if unsure.
Wants attention	Keep night boring. Calm earns freedom later.

Night rule: POTTY only. No play. No party.

What to do when something goes wrong

Some days will be bad. A busy day, a sick child, work pressure, travel, exams, family stress. On those days, do not aim for perfect. Do the minimum: food and fresh water; toilet trips on time; a little safe movement; accidents cleaned calmly, with no blame; protected, genuine rest in the resting place and the calm place; one small useful activity, no more; Mum's space protected, with no forced contact; and the truth told to Dad, so tomorrow starts clean.

A small useful activity can be a treat scatter, the name game, a PLACE reward, a calm chew, short sniffing, or two minutes of quiet attention.

Bad day is allowed. Bad week is not. If the family has a bad week, reset the system.

What Broke → What to Reset

What Broke	What to Reset
Potty slipping	Smaller area, tighter timing, restart the tracker.
Biting sharper	More rest, shorter play, end before chaos.
Chewing up	Remove access, more legal chews and brainwork.
Fence or outdoor chaos	Less freedom outside, more control, shorter sessions.
Over-arousal everywhere	Quieter house, more PLACE and BOX, fewer triggers at once.

Emergency Phone Tree

Fill this before the puppy arrives. Do not search for numbers during an emergency.

Contact	Name	Phone
Dad	-----	-----
Mum	-----	-----
Vet clinic	-----	-----
24h clinic	-----	-----
Trainer	-----	-----
Backup adult	-----	-----
Compound / building security	-----	-----

Emergency rule for kids: if anything feels unsafe, secure the dog if safe to do so, move away, and call Dad.

When Not to Wait

Some situations need fast help, not family debate, and it is worth knowing them in advance:

- trouble breathing, or choking;
- blue, pale, or abnormal gums or tongue;
- collapse, or being unable to stand;
- a seizure;
- suspected poisoning, or a swallowed unknown or dangerous item;
- repeated vomiting, or retching with little or nothing coming out;
- diarrhoea that repeats or has blood;
- being unable to pee or poop;
- vomiting or diarrhoea in a very young puppy, or in a puppy who is weak, confused, or refusing water;
- heavy bleeding, a deep wound, or a bite;
- an eye injury;
- severe pain or screaming;
- signs of heat stress;
- a severe limp or sudden inability to move normally;

- a swollen or hard belly;
- a sudden major change in behaviour;
- and any serious bite risk.

One serious red flag is enough. Do not wait for all the signs. This is not a treatment list, and this book does not try to tell anyone how to treat these things. It is a readiness signal — a way of knowing the moment to stop guessing and call for help. Recognizing that moment early is the single most valuable thing this chapter can give a family.

Why this exists

I am not a dog trainer. I am not a vet, not a breeder, not a professional from the dog industry.

That may be exactly why this helps. None of it was written from theory or from a training room. It came out of real family failure and real household pressure.

I raised dogs before I had a family. I loved them, and I believed I knew what I was doing. Then, a few months after I married, my dog died, and I grieved him more than anyone who has never loved a dog would understand.

Years later I brought a dog into my family, and it failed. My wife had a real fear of dogs. My children loved the puppy and kept breaking the rules without meaning to. He learned one thing from me, another from the children, and something else again from the house. I rehomed him.

A few years later I thought the problem had been timing. The children were older. We were ready. We were not. Same failure — taller children, a different name, the same pattern.

A few years after that, it happened again.

Three dogs. Koudy, Milo and Snoopy. All three went on to families who could give them what mine could not. My children still see them.

Love was there. Experience was there. It failed anyway.

So I stopped asking why the dog had failed and started asking better questions. What repeated across all three? Where did it break? Who carried the risk, and who carried the daily routine? Who was being pushed into discomfort? What did the puppy learn from us without our noticing?

The answer was simple and uncomfortable. Love was present. A system was not.

Sometimes the dog was trained, but the house was not.

So I built one — on paper, for my own children, before the fourth dog arrived.

He stayed. His name is Oden.

These pages are part of that system. I am doing the thing I wished someone had done for me.

Somebody gave you this. If it was useful, it is free to pass on — and everything else is at mohamedabukhadra.com.

I wrote this for my family. Then I shared it with the people I thought might get something from it. Use it, ignore it, or write back and tell me how to make it better. Up to you.

Before You Say Yes to the Dog

A Family Guide Before Bringing Home a Puppy

The decision before the decision. The real workload before it lands on one person. Who actually does what, including the children. A real say for whoever feels least ready. It ends at a test with three answers — Let's get the puppy, Maybe later, Not for us — and each one, given honestly, is a good answer.

21 chapters. One readiness test.
